

WS PCB

EMC-Workshop for Immunity and Emission

Short description

Langer EMV-Technik GmbH offers a workshop for the application of E1 immunity development system and ESA1 emission development system.

In the workshop the basic mechanisms of interference emission and immunity are observed, the structure of typical electronic devices is analyzed and possibilities are derived to perform measurements during development using the E1 and ESA1. Various modifications or EMC measures are directly examined for their effect.